

1.

Write a .c file having a employee struct contains empID , empName, empSalary , and two function AcceptData and printEmpData . and call these function in main()

2.

Write a .cpp file having a employee struct contains empID, empName, empSalary , and two function AcceptData and printEmpData. and call these function in main()

function overloading

3.

write a function 'Add' which is able to add

3 int value and 1 float value

2 int value and 2 float value ,

1 int value and 3 float value,

4 int value ,

4 float value,

1 char value and 3 float value.

default argument

4.

write a function that has the default values for multiple parameters. Call the function where the parameters will use the default values and where the values will be passed to the function.

inline function

5.

Write a inline function to calculate area of triangle. Input base and Height from user and print the result.